LECO 1983 is a headline display OpenType typeface with its three styles:

LECO 1983: Regular

LECO 1983 Blind:

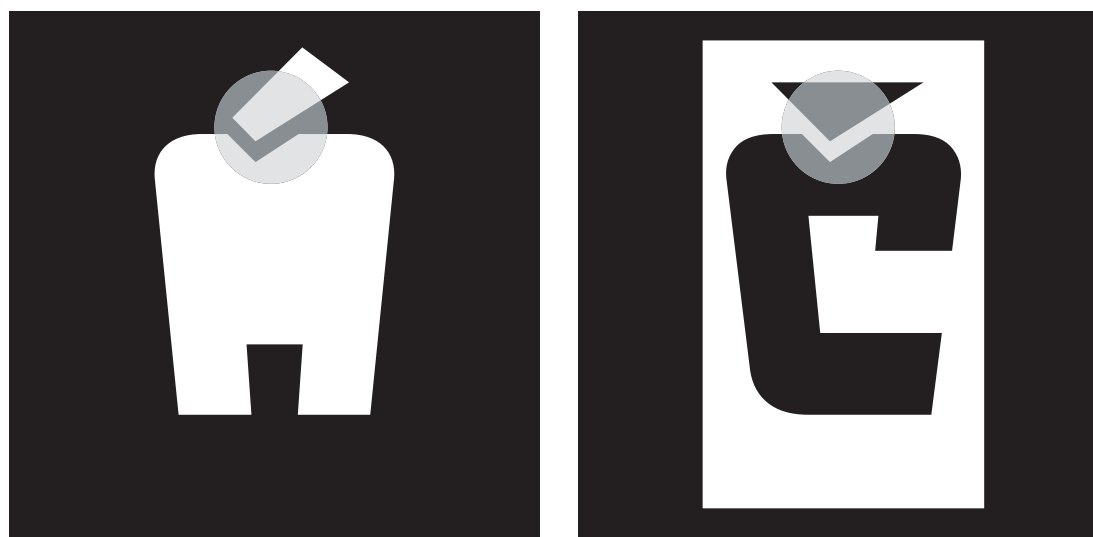

without interiors of signs

LECO 1983 Negative:

in its inverse form.

The inspiration for creating this font came from the label on a 1983 bottle of Lečo.

The characteristic feature of this font is an embedded diacritic. The monolinear character of drawings is dominant. This font is drawn as capital letter type for both: upper case and lower case letters. It contains alternatives of some signs (e, f, g, m, n, y) and (& and a glyph No) but it consists several interesting alternatives (ligatures) of pairs as (in, on, of, by) as well. This font is best used on strong posters or as a headline display typeface.
